Louisville Manufactures — Agricultural Implements.

It has been only in the last five years that much as been done in Louisville in the way of manucturing mowing, reaping, threshing, and other gricultural machines. The business, since its ommencement, has grown up with astonishing apidity, and now forms quite a feature in the esmates of the industrial products of the city .-Machines of Louisville make have been exhibited at various agricultural exhibitions, County, State, and National, and have been awarded pre niums for their excellence and superiority, after eing subjected to the severest practical tests, a competition with similar machines made by nechanics having national reputations for excel-nce in their several lines. Almost every kind of implement adapted to he wants of farmers and planters may be had of ouisville make. In the workshops here are roduced different kinds of reaping, mowing and areshing machines, horse powers of different inds, portable circular saw mills, combined breshing and cleaning machines, cider mills, corn shellers, straw and fodder cutters, hay presss, wheat fans, and many other articles especial adapted to cheapening and facilitating farm bor. By perseverance and close attention, the nanufacturers of these articles have not only rought them to great perfection, but have built ap a very extensive trade for them; and being eenly alive to every improvement that is made n the different articles in which they deal, they rapidly embrace it, to render more perfect whatever they offer for sale. The enterprise and sagacity of the different firms engaged in this businesa, so interesting to the farmers generally, nade implements, the purchaser is sure to get the best produced up to the time his order is received.

There are two firms engaged exclusively in this escription of manufacturing, and although they ake and sell from $350,000 to $400,000 worth of nachines, &c., annually, they are still unable fully supply the largely increasing demand. One rm informed us last week that they could have sold and shipped, in addition to their regular sales, $10,000 worth of their machines, if they had been finished and ready to deliver. We mention this merely as evidence of the high estimation in which these Louisville made articles are held.

The manufacturers here find sale for their work most of the western and southern States .-Kentucky, Indiana, Tennessee, Missouri, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Iilinois, and Iowa, all, to a greater or less extent, are using nachines made here, but the heaviest sales are to Kentucky, Indiana, Tennessee, and Missouri. One material advantage possessed by these o well established, and their good qualities so ouisville machines, is that their reputation is generally recognized and acknowledged, that no natter how many inferior machines are made by thers, they do not in any respect interfere with he sale of those produced here, as the farmers are, as a class, too shrewd and knowing to allow hemselves to be seduced into the purchase of anything of the sort unless they are satisfied of escaping with a few bruises. Messrs. Miller, Wingate & Co.'s large Agricultural Works are situated on the corner of Jefferson and Ninth streets. They make the 'Kentucky Harvester" (which, we believe, compines the properties both of a reaping and mowng machine), threshing machines of different kinds, horse powers, corn shellers, straw cuters, &c.

Messrs. Munn & Co.'s Southwestern Agricultu al Works are at the corner of Eighth and Green treets. They manufacture principally combined hreshing and cleaning machines of different sizes and powers, plain threshers, portable circuar saw mills, straw and fodder cutters, hay presses, &c.

C. V. Vanpelt, on Second street, between Mair street and the river, is largely engaged in making wheat fans, which are of most excellent quality. His is the only establishment of the kind in the city. He also manufactures a supe rior force pump, adapted to farm purposes. Orders sent to eitheir of these firms will b romptly attended to.

In addition to the manufacturers above named here are several highly respectable houses who to a heavy business in seeds, &c., and sell on ommission all agricultural implements made ere, as well as some from factories at other points. Parties desirous of buying can order hrough either of these houses, as well as from the manufacturers direct, and can obtain the articles wanted at factory prices. They can likevise obtain them through any commission mer

FINE KENTUCKY MULES .- Col. Sandford Thomp son, of Clarke county, Ky., made us a brief visit at our office yesterday. He is on his way South. with some fine specimens of one of the favorite "productions" of the celebrated "Blue Grass" region of this State, viz : one hundred A No. 1 fat mules. Col. We saw the mules on Saturday, as they were driven through Main street, on their way to Portland, to go on board the boats. We do not believe that we have ever seen the same number of mules in one gang, of better quality, in all respects, than this lot appeared to be. They were fed by Col. W. R. Estill and Mr. Hamilton Headley, of Fayette county. Both of these gen-ROOFING GUM, SATURATED PAPER, MOPS, &c lemen rank very high among Kentucky stock

LOUISVILLE DIRECTORY FOR 1859 .- We have received a copy of the Louisville Directory for 1859 and 1860, compiled by Henry Tanner. We have not had time to examine it thoroughly, but a casual look indicates that it will serve the puroose for which it is intended. It purports to be a complete general and business directory, containing valuable statistical information, in which will be found the name, occupation, and address of every resident in Louisville; every branch of isiness, alphabetically arranged and classified under appropriate headings; list of courts, banks, churches, public institutions, &c. THEATER-THE GOLDEN Egg.-The fairy comic antomime, the Golden Egg, met with immense cess last night, the Ravels playing to a very large audience. It is full of fun, the scenery was ood, the tricks curious to the unmitiated, and the pantomime expressive. How could it be else, with Gabriel and Francois Ravel, and pretty Miss Francis, in the piece? It will be repeated tonight for the last time, with the truly laughable pantomime of the "Schoolmaster," and also the dashing Zanfretta in her feats on the tight rope. Apply early to secure eligible seats.

The paragraph in the Courier yesterday, stating that Thos. Selvage cut two men at Knapp's garden, was erroneous. There was no difficulty whatever at Knapp's garden, nor was Mr. Selvage engaged in a difficulty at any other place. The nformation on which the paragraph was based was imparted to a policeman by a young man living on Broadway, who did it purposely to deeive. Mr. Jewett is very sanguine of success. He feels confident that the old soldiers of Democracy who stood by him in two hard-fought battles, and were with him in the sixth trouble, will not forsake him in the seventh.

After Mr. Jewett closed his speech, Mr. Brown rose in reply. He labored hard and spoke eloquently, but it was of no avail other than to amuse the boys. His whole speech consisted of a few studied flashes of eloquence and a tirade of anecdotes, all of which fell harmless before the logical thunderbolts of Col. Jewett. ogical thunderbolts of Col. In conclusion, we would say to the friends of Mr. Jewett in the district, be not uneasy as to the result. Only do your duty, rally around the Celonel, and he will again carry your colors on to conquest and to victory. ADFINEM.

IMPORTANT DECISION .- The Court of Appeals has ecided that the tax levied by the County Court f Pendleton county, to pay the interest on the ends issued by the county to the Covington and Lexington Railroad Company is illegal and can-not be collected. The law gives the power to levy the tax only on the condition that the question o levying shall be submitted to the voters of the county, and a majority of voters shall have been in favor of the tax. No such question was sub-mitted to the voters of Pendleton county, so far as the record shows, and therefore the levy of the tax cannot be maintained. THE WAR IN EUROPE.

BALTIMORE, July 9. The following is a portion of a letter, written by a private of the Zouaves to his father at Stras by a private of the Zouaves to his father at Strasburg:

MY DEAR FATHER—I write you these few lines from the battle-field of Magenta, where the regiment of Zouaves belonging to the Guard has immortalized itself. I am worn out with fatigue, as we have been marching day and night. For five days we lay down to rest on the field of battle, and this morning are busy in burying the dead and caring for the wounded. The Austrain corpses lie on all sides; the wretched fellows have received terrible wounds from our bayonets; they are all noble men and brave soldiers; their muskets are rifled like ours: many of the wounded kets are rifled like ours; many of the wounded whom I helped to carry, told me they were glad to die after having again been able to speak with me in their maternal tongue, and after seeing the French so generous and kind to them.

We are glad to see that the reputation of the Zouavez, already so brazely won in Africa and

ALLEGED EXCESSES OF THE FRENCH IN LOMBARDY. [Correspondence of the London Herald ]

TURIN, June 17. I have just returned from a trip to Lombardy, and have visited successively Pavia, Marignano and Milan. I have spoken with French soldiers, and Milan. I have spoken with French soldiers, and village priests, and Italian peasants, and the conclusion I have arrived at is, that whilst in the towns the French are everywhere hailed as deliverers, the peasants and the rural priesthood, who are quite as powerful as they are in Ireland, are to a man in favor of the Austrians. Indeed, one thing seems very evide t, that the grinding tyranny of the Austrians, of which we have yranny of the Austrans, or which we have leard so much, has not been, at all events, exer-ised against those least able to bear it; and that f undue severity has been exerted to keep in order the turbulent populations of the towns, the eceived every encouragement to his labor and aterprise. The Zouaves in Italy.—The Moniteur publishes this morning the contents of a diary or official report, captured after the battle of Magenta, and ery one of the 22 brigades, and the points at which they were discomfited in succession, at Pa-lestro more particularly. The staff officer made his entries without the remotest idea of their ublicity, but his log-book is a poser to all at-empts at mystification.

One fact not only results from this war ledger out from the conversation of all the officers now risoners on parole in France, that the alarm and rror at the bayonet charge of the Zouaves is a erfect panic, and pervades the whole Austrian us horror among the ranks, but the curved eel glittering on the musket muzzle of these ry (sedulously cultivated by a government) may make good subjects and passive tools, but mere unimal strength must yield before intelligent npetus and animated virility. embraced by a young gentleman of most respect able appearance. In the evening, until a late hour, I listened to the stories and sengs of these imple minded Algerians.

Those I happened to be with were in the Pales tro engagement, and helped win a most brilliant victory. Their descriptions were most graphic, and always modest. There was not the slightest individual swagge or vain boasting. It is true, they talked of stick-ing Austrians with a coolness quite startling, but it is their nature to be quick and sly, and I some-times think to love the taste of blood. At any rate, they have none of our sensibilities about the sacredness of life, and from this reason they make fine soldiers. Fond of glory and fond of daring, a great leader is their idol, and hence their admiration of Napoleon. In their songs they do not forget St. Helena.

AN INCIDENT SHOWING THE FEELING OF THE FRENCY In the morning following, or yesterday, I left Novara alone in a carriage for the Magenta battl field. The army had already got the start of me on the road, and for ten miles I was in the midst of troops. As I had a spare seat I had not proceeded far before I saw that I was looked upon with envy by some of the soldiers, and finally it was politely asked for by a soldier who seemed to be suffering a little from the march. I of course be suffering a little from the march. I, of course invited him in, and mention the incident only to show his delicacy in wishing to get down when he found I was not an Italian. He said he should distances in English miles will be interesting and defending my country. Such has been the con-duct of the French since entering Italy. They have taken no advantages of their position wherever I have seen them encamping—by the way, it has always been in places where no harm could occur. In fact, the discipline of the French army is surprising. With this array of two hundred thousand men, in a strange country, not a single case of brutal outrage has been beared of

NUMBER 9.

This vast field, so admirable for defense, was in the possession of the enemy on the morning of the 4th, and on the evening of the same day it had been crossed by the tri-color. As I passed the bridge at the canal, I observed the plastered building was thickly spotted with bullet holes.

The fields all the way to the village were trampled down like a frequented path. The mulberry trees were frequently shattered by cannon balls, and pretty generally peppered with bullets. The vines were totally destroyed. As f wandered about over this field, I could scarcely believe it had so recently been the theater of one of the hardest fought battles on record. Every human body had been removed and buried. The human body had been removed and buried. The remains of horses were fast disappearing. Noti-ing was allowed to rest in sight but Austrian hats, and these had been stripped of their trim mings by the peasants.

There was one other work, however, which assured me that the destruction of human life at Magenta had not been over-estimated. In very many places the ground was red.

There are ten complete corps in the Lombardo-Venetian kingdom, and the strength of them may be safely computed at 28,000.

On the 14th inst. the Emperor went to the great military hospital at Verona, and closely examined the different wards and the kitchen. The visit must have been totally unexpected, for neither the director of the establishment nor the surgeons had time to make themselves "fit to be seen." The former had on a jacket of brown ticking, like that worn by the common soldiers in summer, and the aprons of some of the surgeons showed but too plainly what their occupations had been when the Emperor entered the house. The Administration on the Rights of Neutrals. [Special Dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette.]

The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Herald, writes:

The important State paper, as to the position of the United States upon the question of neutral rights, has been completed, and has been dispatched to all our Ministers in Europe by the Persian Wednesder United Proposed of without our voice and influence being heard and felt in their adjustment. The Presi-dent's manifesto lays down the broad principles principal points are, of course, with reference to a limitation of articles which shall be deemed con-traband of war. The United States holds that nothing should be embraced in this list but the direct and immediate nunitions of wartare—such as powder, muskets, cannons, lead, &c., &c., &c.

Reading Matter on Every Page. What One of Douglas' Friends Thinks of Him In defining his position in his recent letter, nothing more or less was meant than that, if he could not conscientiously assume the leadership of the Democracy, in accordance with certain conditions imposed, which might be proposed, he would prefer to co-operate dutifully as an humble individual in the ranks.—Washington

If the above extract from the Washington States in behalf of the Hon. Stephen A. Douglas does not place the Little Giant in an awkward position, we don't know what could awkwardly locate him. He is represented by his friend as being willing to be led where he would not lead; as designing, in a certain contingency, to follow where he would not advance. In other words, if the Charleston Convention shall fix up a platform to suit him, he would like to stand upon it Thus: as the leader of the Democracy in 1860; but if a platform is erected which does not suit him, and upon which he could not stand, he is willing to follow any leader whom the platform does suit and who can stand upon it.

Suppose that the organ of the French Government were to make a similar declaration with re-long as the programme of the Italian campaign suited him he would lead the French armies, but if it should not suit him he would become a private, and follow some other leader. Is there a man who would not laugh at such a declaration? Would not everybody say if the programme was right the Emperor ought to lead, but if it was wrong he ought to quit, and neither lead nor follow in the path of wrong?

It seems to us that the States has placed Mr. Douglas in anything but an agreeable position .-We should think that the Little Giant would prefer friends of an order of discretion very different from the States. He would rather have his organs say that he would not lead unless the programme suited him, and would not follow where he could not lead. His course upon the question of admitting Kansas into the Union as a slave State showed that Senator Douglas was not bound hand and foot by party ties, and we are disposed to believe that he would not follow where he could not lead. He has the independence of a thinker. the nerve of a bolter, and the ambition of a leader, but not the imbecility and cowardice of a docile follower.

Up to a certain point in the political career of Senator Douglas there was much that elicited our profoundest admiration. We denounced his course upon the Lecompton question—we repudiated the squatter sovereignty heresies he promulged in his last Illinois campaign, and we saw nothing to aplicate the squatter sovereignty heresies he promulged in his last Illinois campaign, and we saw nothing to applicate the squatter sovereignty heresies he promulged in his last Illinois campaign, and we saw nothing to applicate the squatter sovereignty heresies he promulged in his last Illinois campaign, and we saw nothing to applicate the figures will determine; and we assert that the figures do not sustain the Banner.

The nine States referred to by the Banner as having voted for Pierce in 1852 and for Fremont in 1856, are the States of Connecticut, Iowa, Maine, Michigan, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, Rhode Island and Wisconsin. These States, 1852 and 1852 and 1852 and 1853 and 1854 and 1855 prove in his Presidential card of the 22d ult. he only hope for Douglas, in our opinion, was retiracy. He is politically dead and buried for the present. Time may bring him a resurrection for leaders to talk of following where they cannot advance. If such things are done they must be accomplished silently. It will not do to herald such intentions to the world, and to bluster about them. That the late letter of Mr. Douglas seriously impaired whatever chances he may have had for the nomination of the Charles. ton Convention, some of his best friends admit, and the best thing for his redoubtable friends to have done under the circumstances was to construe the Little Giant's Presidential card into a declaration that he would not go efore the Charleston Convention as a candidate. Having given the letter that construction, they night have shut their mouths, and laid aside heir pens, and waited for something to turn up. Instead of doing this, however, they have construed a consummate failure into a successful and have, therefore, volunteered the foregoing as and efficient legislator. a defense of him against what we consider the most degrading position in which he has ever been placed by friend or foe. We should have much more respect for him as an open enemy than as an aspiring leader reduced to the volur tary position of a private in the ranks of an unappreciative army of victors.

Bell and the Journal.

The editor of the Journal seems to be supporting Bell for Governor upon the principle of contraries, if there is any principle in the matter. While Bell was in Congress he said that he | to know how it was done. would have voted for the annexation of Texas if he had not been too sick to be in his seat when the bill passed. The editor of the Journal, on the contrary, spoke of the annexation of Texas in the following style:

"Every man who does not wish to see the powers of the Northern and Western States depart for-ever, every man who does not wish to see a dozen new slave States added to the Union, and to hear the cries of additional millions of wretched negroes going up to meet the Lord in the air, and imprecate vengeance upon our land, will oppose the pur-chase of Texas with a deep and irresistible deter-

When the Know Nothing party was organized and the editor of the Journal with his dark-lantern went into some garret, cellar, or back-alley to join the order, Bell denounced him as an enemy of civil liberty and a suborner of the judiciary. Now the editor of the Journal is doing all he can to elect Bell, when Joshua defiantly says that he retracts nothing heretofore said by him on the subject of Know Nothingism.

When the question of admitting Kansas into the Union as a slave State under the Lecompton-Constitution was under discussion in Congress, the editor of the Journal swore that Lecompton was the arch-fiend of frauds, and that there never had been anything so iniquitous. Bell, on the contrary, said he would have voted for Lecompton if he had been in Congress, and yet the editor of the Journal is for Bell.

Bell has been understood since his nomination to be advocating the doctrine of Congress protecting slavery in the Territories in the event of the Territorial Legislature refusing, and the eourts failing, to grant adequate protection. The Journal has more than once said this was his position. The editor of the Journal himself held

Sources of the Free-Nigger Strength,

The Louisville Journal is in the habit of stating that certain leaders of the Abolition and Black Republican parties at the present time, were once Democrats. The argument intended by these statements, is that the anti-slavery hordes of the North have drawn their strength from the Democratic ranks. The Nashville Banner has followed the Journal in the use of this argument, and the Union and American has made a statistical reply. We publish below a part of the response of the Union and American to the Banner, which will serve as our answer to all the argument the Journal has made on this subject, if indeed it has made

In 1852 Hale received 157,296 votes. In 1856 Fremont received 1,841,812 votes.
Let us look to the record a moment, and see where this increase in the Abolition vote came In 1840 and 1844 the regular Abolition candi date received the first year 7,000 and the second about 62,000 votes. In 1848, the vote in the non-slaveholding States

The argument of the Banner is, that Fremont, having once een a Democrat, "drew his chief strength from the ranks of his political friends." Let us see

In 1856 there was no Whig candidate. A new party, "formed from the ruins of both the old arties," as we are told, had taken the place of parties, as we are too, has taken the place of the Whig party. Fillmore, the candidate of that party, received 393,590 votes in the non-slave-holding States. That accounts for so many of the Scott vote of 1852. Where went the remaining 325,000? It is "positive evidence," which cannot be disputed, that the Abolition candidates for the Presidency have not drawn "their chief strength" from the Democratic party and that the Abolition that the Presidency have not drawn "their chief strength" from the Democratic party and that there is not the thought the property in the chief strength. rom the Democratic party; and that they have drawn that strength almost entirely from the Old Whig party.

We notice one more paragraph from the Banner's article. It says: "Gen. In 1856 the Northern anti-slavery Democratic Freont carried nine of these Northern Democratic tates. posed to them. Thos. P. Jacob, Esq., who was nominated by them for the Legislature in th Third and Fourth Wards, has ever since the demise of the Whig party been strongly opposed to the Opposition. He voted for Buchanan, and was bid for the Presidency, and they will have to take as deep and intense a hater of Know Nothingism the consequences. PULMONARY CONSUMPTION being primarily and essentially due to a disordered nutrition, can be rationally attacked only by a medicine which renovates the nutritive powers. Such a medicine is the PERUVIAN SYRUP, whose chief ingredient acts directly and immediately on the blood, and arrests the disease safely and surely.

BALTIMORE, July 15, 1854. I was suffering with a severe Catarrhal Cough, accompanied by Night Sweats, Loss of Appetite, and great Debility, which was daily increasing In this state I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup. In a few days, and before I had used the second bottle, my cough lessened, night sweats ceased, appetite was restored, and with it strength and vigor beyond what I had enjoyed for ten years, being able to walk several miles each day without fatigue, while hitherto I could walk only a short distance. Fever and Ague all Billious Complaints.

It is a well known fact that the different fevers and billious complaints are caused by the polsonous misama and exhalations from the surface of the earth, which are taken into the system by respiration. To neutralise this softlepoison and counteract its effect upon the system, is therefore what we have to aim at, and with this view the "French Tropical Fever and Ague Mixture" has been prepared.

The high reputation which this medicine has gained within so short a time in the South and West where it has been introduced, if andicient proof for its superiority above all other compounds of the same kind.

As an antidote to maiaria, this medicine sfands unrivalled, and as it is purely vegetable, it can be safely given to children and delicate patients, not only in case of fever, but in all cases where a good tonic is required. The French Tropical Fever and Ague Mixture is prepared by §B. LAPLACE, Chemist and Druggist, New Orleans, and sold by all respectable druggists throughout this city.

The importance of a reliable article of this kind is inestimable. In warm weather all nature teems with these annoying foes. This powder is the only article ever discovered which will exterminate them. A company of botanists, from the Horticultural Society of Paris, who amidst the ferns of Asia, observed that all insects limiting upon a certain kind of plant very soon dropped dea 1. This fact was made use of to guard their night camps from these intruders. Quantities of the plant were brought home by Mr. E. Lyon, and found a positive insect destroyer in every experiment. It is simply a powderal leaf, chemically prepared to resist the effect of age and follower. Medals and lighter Patent have been cladefilmer.

THE RIVER was about stationary last evening at the head of the falls, having risen barely an inch during the previous 24 hours. In the canal there were 4 feet 5 inches water by the mark. The weather continues excessively warm-entirely too warm—and we expect it will breed a storm. The heat indicated by the thermometers in the shade was at 89 to 90 at 10 o'clock, and at the mead ountain of Bradas & Co., Main street, in the afternoon, it stood at 95.

The present slight swell is the late rise from Pittsburg, but by our dispatches from that quar-ter yesterday it appears that the river was falling very fast, with only 4 feet in the channel. At Cincinnati, too, it was also falling, and the mall-boats rubbed slightly at the flats—a sure indication of another low water siege.

The remains of James Garvin were received ed by the mail boat Superior yesterday. A large number of our citizens went up the river to Cincinnati, in committee, to receive the body and attend to its reception here. Capt. Sherley, in behalf of the mail line, tenlered a free passage up and down to all the friends of the deceased, as well as the committee on the occasion. It was a tribute of respect and celling well merited and fully appreciated.

The Mound City Marine Railway is doing a flourishing business. The H. R. W. Hill was the first large boat hauled out. The Belfast and several other steamers are now at Mound City awaiting their turn to go on the ways. The following in regard to the upper water is from the Cincinnati Commercial of yesterday: The Eunice, from Wheeling, yesterday, reports six and a half feet water all the way down, and the channel entirely clear from obstructions. Hence to Louisville, on the flats, there is only six feet water re-ported. The Telegraph rubbed hard on Saturday, and the Empire City was detained there several hours. The Chattanooga is again on the track, adverused for Cairo this evening. THE PACIFIC.-This splendid boat left New Orleans last Friday evening, on her last trip of the season, as it is contemplated to lay her up on ar-rival. She has ran a long and prosperous sea-son, and always made her trips with dispatch and CHARMER FOR NEW ORLEANS-FROM CAIRO.

The Charmer, the new mail packet for the Vicks-burg and New Orleans trade, as will be seen by the advertisement, takes her departure to New Orleans Wednesday evening. The chief article of import at Cincinnati now, is blackberries. About 100 boxes go up daily on the mail boat. The Eunice, from Wheeling, yesterday discharged a lot of sugar and rice for this market. The McLellan, last evening, had a good rip for Memphis, including a drove of fine mules to Mr. Thompson, who is shipping longing to Mr. Thompson, who is shipping em to Point Coupee. They are to be re-shipped at Memphis on the Capitol.

Captain G. W. Norton, of the Wheeling, primerly master of the Alvin Adams and Empress, ras in the city yesterday, the impersonation of ne health. He stops at the Louisville Hotel.

IN CHANCERY-JULIA DEAN VS RAINBOW-DIS SED.—The long pending damage suit of the ia Dean's owners against Capt. Hollcroft and owners of the Rainbow, was finally decided last vening, by Chancellor Logan, in the Chancery Jourt. After hearing all the testimony, and the Court. After hearing all the testimony, and the arguments of counsel, the suit was "dismissed at plaintiffs' costs." The case had been on docket some time, and on last Tuesday it was taken up for a first hearing, occupying the Court the whole f last week, and it was not concluded until 7

The Julia Dean was sunk in the lower Onio, ist below Mount Vernon, on the 26th of April, 557, by collision with the Rainbow. This caus-ed confusion, resulting in a collision. The Court decided that the ascending boat had both the right of place and the right to signal first, or choose her position or course, and that the colli-sion was by no fault or mismanagement of the officers of the Rainbow, and so dismissed the suit at the cost of plaintiffs. at the cost of plaintiffs.

The cabin, after the windows and doors were removed, was sold for $50. She has some 15 tons of the railroad bridge material on her decks, all of which can be got off. In the hold there are 60,000 shingles, seven hogsheads of tobocco, a lot of candies, liquorice, &c. It is thought the boat can be raised.

The Western rivers are all falling fast, and the Illinois is expected soon to go to low water mark.

The Brazil has laid up at St. Louis, and nany more were expected to follow suit. The W. H. Russell, John J. Roe, Emigrant, Minnesota Belle, have been docked at St

The Nashville packet, John Gault, is now canal dock undergoing repairs. Capt Capt. Henry Streck's new boat for the loast trade, has been landed at the lower wharf, where she receives her machinery. When finished, she will be the prettiest boat ever seen in Ladourche.

The hull of Capt. Sterrett's new boat, for Galveston, Texas, is being completed at railroad speed. He contemplates having the hull towed to Houston, 1,800 mi.es, where the machinery, outfit, &c., of the Eclipse, of those waters, are to be transferred to the new boat.

FOR CAIRO AND MEMPHIS.—The splendid light draught packet Gen. Pike, Capt. Jones, takes her departure for Cairo and Memphis this evening, at 5 o'clock, from Portland. She is a good boat in every respect, and takes freight for New Orleans, Vicksburg, Napoleon and White river. The clerk, Capt. Bowers, is one of the best and most attentive on the river.

FOR ST. LOUIS .- The famous High Flyer, Capt. Tom Wright, is the regular packet for Cairo and St. Lous this evening. She starts from Portland, and will take freight and passengers to all the Ohio river landings, and Cumberland river, as well as to St. Louis and the far west. The clerk, A. D. Armstrong, will be found attentive and polite.

The Telegraph No. 3 is the mail and pas senger packet for Cincinnati and the East at noon to-day. Thanks to the officers of the Fanny Bullitt for the latest New Orleans dates, forwarded from Cairo by Adams' Express Company.

MONEY MATTERS. The tightness in the money market felt during th early days of July seems to have entirely disappeared. It was caused by the necessity of making the usual half yearly settlemnts, and by the banks having for sometime previous to the 1st contracted, to some extent, their business, with the view of being able to make good showings in their semi-annual statements, There has been considerable coin drawn from some of the Banks during siderable coin drawn from some of the Banks durling the past three months in redemption of a portion of their circulation, which, as it reached the hands of priwate bankers, and they saw the opportunity of making a turn with it, they have presented at the Bank counters, and demanded gold, or Eastern Exchange, at ow rates. The Banks have been able to supply them, and that demand is rapidly wearing itself out. The offerings are not as large as usual, there being omparatively but few heavy commercial transactic ns

[From the Cincinnati Gazette, of this morning.] MONDAY, A. M.—The week closed with a good though not pressing demand for money, and matters generally presented a heaithy appearance. With a moderate de-gree of closeness, there has been no serious difficulty in egotiating acceptable paper within the range of 10601 negotiating acceptable paper within the range of 10(2)12 per cent.

Eastern Exchange settled down on Saturday to ½ premiss. The buying racts were also uniform at ½ premiss. The set was a good demand at the rates, and the sales were fully up to, and in some cases in excess of the receipts. Gold continued dull. There being no demand dealers shipped their receipts. We now quote, ½ ½ premium buying, and ½ selling. New Orleans Sight was quite inactive. First class and fair bills on the East continued in good demand, at rates varying from 6 to 9 % cent.—the latter for 90-day paper. There is, however, an indisposition to take paper having over 60 days to run, and the produce markets being in a sort of transition state, the offerings generally are closely secutionized.

[From the Boston Post, of Friday.]

[From the Boston Post, of Friday.] There is a good demand for money to-day in the open market, and rates are firmly supported. The Banks re-port an active inquiry, but having not seemingly de-parted from the cautious policy adopted 60 days ago The larger Banks find no difficulty in employing at er ceut, all they care to, and reject, for the m ong date paper, preferring, in the absence of sufficien offerings of short bills to lend on call at 6@7 $\pi$ cent.

The most noticeable feature in the market to-day ha een increased activity in sight exchange on New York fluenced by an active demand for specie, especially nnuenced by an active demand for specie, especial Mexican dollars, for shipment to Europe. As may t expected, rates inclined in favor of buyers of exchangind sales, which reached some $400,000, exhibit a dilline of $400 per cent. One party sold over $200,000 to $400,000 premium.
